

Alisha Miles

Career and Life Strategist

ABOUT ALISHA

Alisha Chanta Miles is a Career and Life Strategist who helps high-functioning people align how they show up—with their goals, their values, and their voice. With over a 15+ years of experience in higher education and professional development, she blends strategy and storytelling to help individuals move forward without losing themselves in the process. She's also the founder of Waffles and Wives, a community that helps women speak boldly, love intentionally, and live honestly. Whether in a boardroom, breakout session, or sanctuary, Alisha brings language to the spaces where work, identity, and wisdom meet.
